L A T E Foreign Intelligence.

NORFOLK, JULY 30.

To the polite attention of Capt. Todd, of the Schr. Maria, arrived here in 14 days from Martinique, we are indebted for the following, which we extract from London papers brought by the June Packet to this Island.

LONDON, June 7.

Paris papers to the 1st of June, inclusive, have been received in town. They contain two letters from General Massena to the French Directory, dated the 24th and 25th ult. by the first of which it appears, "that the Austrians were repulsed in an attempt to cross the Rhine with a very small body of troops, on the 23d ult. near Coblenz (in the canton of Zurich) and Klingau, with the loss of 300 prisoners, and several drowned in attempting to repass the Rhine."—In the second letter general Massena states, "that the Austrians having collected a great force on the banks of the Thur (he does not state how all the country between the Rhine and the Thur came into the possession of the Austrians, and where they now remain) he had thought it necessary to attack them, and had driven them back to the right bank of that river. In this action the Austrians are said to have lost 3,500 prisoners, amongst whom are col. De Barco and capt. Prince of Hohenloë, besides one standard, 2 pieces of cannon, and 2000 killed and wounded.—The French had 400 killed and wounded."

It will be seen by a message delivered yesterday evening from his majesty to the House of Commons, that the article inserted in this paper many weeks since, respecting a body of 45,000 Russians being taken into British pay, is confirmed. A large body of Swiss emigrants is also to be enlisted into the pay of Great Britain, and such succours afforded to the friends of the ancient government of the Swiss Cantons, as may be found necessary to be applied to that salutary purpose. A gentleman, high in the diplomatic line, and who left town yesterday, is supposed to have the charge of this very important measure.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. Wickham one of his majesty's under Secretaries of State, left town on his way to Switzerland, where he formerly resided in a public capacity. His office is not to be vacated.

It is more than probable that the Senate of Hamburg will deliver up Napper Tandy, as the Emperor of Russia has so urgently insisted on it.

Lord Duncan arrived at Yarmouth on Monday, and hoisted his flag, the following day on board the Kent of 74 guns, capt. Hope.

From Paris Papers.

ARMY OF THE DANUBE.

Letter from Massena, Commander in Chief, to the Executive Directory.

"head-Quarters at Zurich, May 24.
"Citizens Directors,

"In the night between the 21st and 22d, the enemy, with considerable force, crossed the left bank of the Rhine, between Coblenz and Kaiferstull.—To cover this movement, they had the evening before vigorously attacked my positions from Aldensingen to Vill. Their object was to make me send forces thither, and to leave the line of the Rhine unguarded. In the night I was informed of this circumstance. Our first posts had been beaten back, and I made dispositions to attack them in the morning.

"General Thurau was ordered to attack the enemy in front on the points of Coblenz and Zurich. I advanced to their flank on the side of Eglihan and Kaiferstull. At 10 o'clock in the morning the action began. The enemy at first resisted, but soon began to think of retreating. A body of Huns, who covered their retreat, were attacked by our cavalry. We took 309 horses, and 500 prisoners, among whom are five officers. This movement of the enemy was bold; their object was to cut off the communication with Zurich, but they were obliged to repass the Rhine with precipitation, and they were pursued with so much vigour, that they had not time to establish a bridge, and many of their men were drowned in the river.

MASSENA.

Letter from Massena, Commander in Chief to the Executive Directory.

"ZURICH, MAY 26.
"Citizens Directors,

"The recent movements of the Enemy, and the information I had received of their assembling troops on the Left Bank of the Thur, announced their intention of attacking me. In order to counteract their measures, I ordered a general attack upon their line, in order to drive it beyond the river.—For that purpose I went on the 26th to Winthuer with my Staff. I ordered General Oudinot, who commanded the advanced guard, to march to Fauenfeld, while General Paillard was to attack the left of the enemy on Andelfingen, and gen. Ney, their centre, at Adlikon. General Soult was ordered with his division to support these attacks.

"At day break the advanced posts of the Enemy were attacked and the affair soon became general. Our troops displayed the greatest intrepidity. The Enemy, on their part, made a long and vigorous resistance, but were ultimately defeated, and obliged to retreat with precipitation, though they had a more numerous Cavalry than we had, which covered them. Gen. Paillard, having repulsed the enemy, made 500 prisoners, and general Ney made 200.—The column which he pursued owed its safety to the celerity of its retreat. Gen. Oudinot met with the greatest resistance, and our troops repulsed; but gen. Soult having arrived with 2 squadrons of the 13th Dragoons and 23d half brigade, turned the advantage in our favour. These two Generals made 1800 prisoners, and 2 pieces of cannon. The action lasted in this part till within one hour of night.

"The result of this action is, that the enemy have quitted the left bank of the Thur, and that we have taken 1 standard, 2 pieces of cannon, and 2500 prisoners, among whom is col. Debarco, Prince Hohenlo, and the Major of the regiment of Secklers. At the commencement of the action, the hussars of that corps asked our troops whether they would give quarter (recollecting the assassination of the Plenipotentiaries). Our brave foldies called out, "Defend yourselves." In fact they did defend themselves with vigour, but a great slaughter was made of them. Thus the punishment of a most infamous crime has commenced.

"Gen. Chabreau, who commanded the second division, obtained some advantages over the enemy, and made some prisoners.

The Helvetic legion, and some battalions of Swis who were engaged, behaved with courage. Adj. general Weber, who commanded them, was killed; he is generally regretted. Our Generals, officers and foldiers, behaved in a manner worthy of themselves; and nothing but their great exertions could have decided this contest so successfully for us, and so fatally for the enemy. Our loss, including the wounded, may amount to 400 men, and that of the enemy to 2000 men, exclusively of 2500 prisoners.

MASSENA.

Massena, Commander in Chief, to the Executive Directory of the French Republic.

Head Quarters, Zurich, May 28.

"Prince Charles having joined his army with a reinforcement of 12,000 men, engaged me yesterday on the line of the Thur with 30,000 men. He directed the attack in person, which began at day break.

"The efforts and obstinacy of the enemy were beyond all expression, and our defence was equally so. Night did not put an end to the action, which was continued till ten o'clock. I advanced to the Glat for the purpose of concentrating my force more towards Zurich.

"We made 800 of the enemy prisoners in the action of yesterday, and a great number were either killed or wounded.

"Gen. Nay, who commanded the advanced guards, received two wounds, and had two horses killed under him. Adjutant-general Lorecy has also been wounded.

MASSENA.

N. B. In a second letter, dated May 29th, gen. Massena gives the details of several actions which took place in several points.—The enemy has been defeated in every quarter, and lost a considerable number of men, who were left on the field of battle. We took 700 prisoners.

We shall give the details contained in his letter to-morrow.

Redacteur.

TURIN, May 22.

Moreau's head quarters have been established at Coni, since yesterday, at which place also arrived about the same time a reinforcement of 12,000 men by the way of Nice, and the Col de Tende.

A body of peasants which had been organized into four regiments, by the Priests and Noblemen, and called itself the christian army, has been completely routed by detachments of the French army under general Moreau. They were summoned to surrender 3 times but refused.—Mondovi, and several other places at which they had assembled, were pillaged and burnt.

An emigrant was yesterday shot in the citadel of Turin, who had presented himself in the character of an Austrian officer, for the purpose of treating with the garrison.

The insurrections which have broken out in Piedmont, have not penetrated as far as this place.

General Moreau preserves his communication with France, and daily receives reinforcements. Gen. Ledoyen, who is at Suze, has acquainted his staff that he has been joined by 22,000 men by the way of Mount Cenis.

LONDON, June 10.

The emperor has nearly restored the ancient order of things at Venice. The nobles are for the most part reinstated in all their rights and public situations.

The Jews of Venice have sent a present of brandy to general Kray for the use of the Austrian army, to the value of 6000 ducats. The venerable Senator of Berne, Baron Von Steiger has addressed a very energetic letter to his countrymen in Switzerland, calling on them to revenge the murders committed on their brethren. He says the period is now arrived when they should employ their last remaining strength to extirpate the common enemy from their land. He says, "Trust in God, who defends the just cause, and in German honesty which was never known to betray."

It is reported that the elector of Bavaria has consented to the passage of 45,000 Russians through his territories, and has sent a minister to Petersburg.

The king of Prussia arrived at Brunswick on the 28th ult. and, after sleeping one night at the Duke's palace, he pursued his journey towards Cassel.

The Bishops, Priests and Noblemen, who were taken prisoners by Moreau's army near Mondovi, were instantly shot on the field of battle.

The Executive Directory has published an arrette, which expresses its satisfaction at the conduct of its agent, Victor Hughes, at Guadaloupe.

The Paris papers report that the king of Prussia has ordered the suspension of all payments on account of Russia.

The Spanish Ambassador to the Cisalpine republic has been ordered to quit Milan.

JUNE 12.

The capture of Milan and of Ferrara, will reinforce the Imperial army with some thousand foldiers, while the loss of the latter place will deprive Macdonald, and the Cisalpine, Roman, and Neapolitan Patriots, of the only point from which they could receive support.—It renders the return of all the southern parts of Italy to the ancient order of things next to certain. It appears, indeed, that the communication had already been opened on the beginning of last month between Verona, Rome and Naples.—The capture of Casal and of Ceva was not less favorable to the future operations of the imperialists, for it gives them two important points; one on the left, and the other on the right flank of the French army; and these circumstances alone may have been sufficient to force Moreau to return to Coni.

The position of Moreau seems to be no longer tenable, and his retreat is exposed upon every side. Private letters mention that Gen. Suwarow, unwilling to expose his army in storming the French camp, which is fortified both by art and nature, had marched to the northward of Alessandria to turn its flanks. It is added that the immediate object of the Austrians, is to prevent general Lecourbe, who has been beaten out of the Engadine, from joining Moreau, and there seems little reason to doubt of their success in it.

On the night of the 15th the French made an attempt, by sally from Alessandria, to dislodge the right wing of the allies from the Tanaro, along the banks of which it was posted. This design did not succeed, in spite of a momentary success. The Russians repulsed them after they had driven in the Austrians advanced posts who refused their position.

The fate of the French in Switzerland is not less critical than in Piedmont. The victories of general Massena have not given him any geographical advantages, but on the contrary have ended in his advancing (as he calls his retreat) behind Zurich, where his forces are concentrating. His army is stated to amount to 50,000 men.

An article from Aichaffenburg mentions preparations for war, both by the Landgrave of Hesse-Cassel and the king of Prussia. The former Prince, it is stated, had declared that there was an end to the neutrality, and that his army would march against Mentz.

The Councils of the Helvetic Republic have completely dispersed. The Directory means to take refuge in Strasburg.

In the Military Gazette published at the head quarters of the Archduke, it is stated that in Italy, within the short space of six weeks, the Imperialists have killed and wounded 22,000 French; made 12,319 prisoners, taken 630 pieces of cannon and 24 mortars, together with an immense quantity of ammunition, stores, &c. &c.

The following account of the destruction of an English and a Russian frigate in the harbour of Constantinople, which was mentioned in the last French Papers, is given in a letter from Constantinople, dated May 18, brought by yesterday's Hamburg Mail.

"Yesterday afternoon we were alarmed by an explosion like the roar of thunder and a terrible cracking. In less than 2 minutes the cries of 'Treachery! Imposture! our ships are lost! resounded in several streets. We actually found a Russian frigate of 36 guns, an English one of 40 and 2 Turkish corsairs, of 13 guns, well fitted out, and full of men and provisions, struggling with destruction in the harbour. The Russian frigate was blown to pieces by setting its powder room on fire and only pieces of the wreck were to be seen of her. Holes had been bored in 3 different parts of the English frigate which sunk, with the parusir and 7 seamen, all the guns and other effects. The Capt. alone was saved. The Turkish corsairs, which had also holes bored in them, were saved. The strictest inquiry being made, 3 of the villains who perpetrated this horrid act were taken. They are all 3 Frenchmen, who had disguised themselves as sailors. Their names are Le Monville, Laroche and Le Brunet. They are now confined in the Seven Towers, and will it is said, be roasted alive."

CONTINUATION

Late Foreign Intelligence,

By the ship Boyne, arrived at New-York.

LONDON, June 9.

The Committee for the Bankers on Wednesday concluded the loan. Mr. Angerlein, and Mr. Godshall Johnstone.—6. The sixth list was also new; and the deputation attending for the parties gave in the names of Messrs. Hodfoll, Sterling and Co, Walwin, Strange and Co. Andersons and Co. and Boyd and Co. The Chancellor of the Exchequer, in reply, stated that he did not mean to fund any part of the Exchequer Bill intended to be issued. The sum to be borrowed for England was 12 millions and a half; for the annuity on which taxes would be proposed; and three millions for Ireland; the annuity for which that kingdom would provide. On opening the proposals those from Mr. Gles, Sir F. Baring, and Curtis being alike, Mr. Pitt recommended, and the Gentlemen agreed to take between the Loan; the terms of which are, without requiring any long annuities 125l. three per cent. consols, and 50l. three per cent. reduced, being half per cent. less than the price of the Market, and esteemed the best bargain ever made for the public. The 150l. three per cent. ex. div. 55 3-8 is calculated at 64l. 4s. 4d. and the 50l. reduced 36½, at 28l. 2s. 6d. discount 2l. 6s. 6d. making 99l. 13s. 4½d. for which the bidder pay 100l. in the following instalments; June 11th, 10l. 19th June, 20th August, 20th Sept. 22d Nov. and 20th Dec. 15l. each. The equality of the proposals, estimated judgment of the bidders occasioned the funds to immediately rise; and the scrip at the same time bore a premium of 2½ per cent.

The King, during the review of the 1st Dragoon guards on Wednesday, spoke to the Prince of Orange respecting the review of the Volunteers on the preceding day in terms of the warmest admiration: he declared it to have been the most gratifying and proudest period of his life, adding, that he trusted in three months the stadtholder would have the pleasure of witnessing in his own country a similar spectacle.

If we combine this expression of his Majesty with the preparations announced for a foreign military expedition, we may naturally conclude Holland to be its place of destination. Exclusive, however, of this, which might have proceeded only from sympathy and that benevolence which ever seeks to lighten the hearts of others, many circumstances have occurred to impress us with an opinion that Flanders was the intended theatre of action. Be it where it may, fortified by loyalty, and the justice of their cause, and advantaged by the general sentiment of all civilized society, our soldiers, we doubt not, will rival our tars in fortune as they have ever done in valour.

Intelligence from Constantinople, April 26, relates that recent circumstances impressed more than a belief that French gold had occasioned the late dreadful conflagration. The British Minister Plenipotentiary, Mr. J. Spencer Smith, had but time to escape with his Lady, both of whom were left without a change of cloaths.

To the 26th April no official account had been received at Constantinople from Syria subsequent to the 18th of March. Several reports of successes obtained by the allies, and of the return of Buonaparte with the remnant of his army to Egypt were in circulation; but from the general inattention to dates in all Turkish correspondence nothing certain could be collected from them.

The Standard of 64 guns, convalescent ship at Sheerness, is ordered to Chatham to be paid off, and fitted to carry troops. This is the fifth vessel of this rate ordered to Chatham for this purpose, and there are several others of the same class preparing in like manner at Deptford, Woolwich, and the western yards.

King's Bench, Saturday, June 8.

Mr. Kenrick, a native of Denmark, who, in consequence of an application from the Danish ambassador to Lord Grenville, had been taken into and kept in custody, on a charge of having counterfeited the coin of Denmark, applied, by council, to be liberated on bail, on the grounds, that a Mr. Brandt, who said he was a merchant of London, who called on him at Birmingham, where he had for many years resided in high repute, and employed him to execute his coin, which he stated was to be exported to Africa.—The Court discharged Mr. K. on bail, himself in 200l and four sureties in 50l. each.

The French armies in Italy are reported, in their Journals, to have contested the recent battles with more than ordinary bravery, dying by their cannon, &c. It was observed of Sir Thomas Moore and others, who behaved lightly at the point of death, that there is a certain heaviness of heart that may occasion a lightness of head, and give people the appearance of a bravery which they do not feel, like that kind of temerity with which people are sometimes inspired by despair.

JUNE 10.

A letter from Copenhagen, dated the 15th ult. contains the following article:—

"Yesterday arrived the Queen and another English cutter, with the vessel Dutch privateer, of 8 guns, in the road of Ellsineur. They had captured the Dutchman on the coast of Norway. As they were going to send the crew from the English cutter on board the English frigate in the same road, the following occurrence took place: Very providently, the prisoners were sent in a boat belonging to Ellsineur, without any officer on guard over them. The Dutch not expecting the best treatment on board the English frigate, took the steering of the boat from the skipper, and rowed off. The English however, perceiving they were taking flight, immediately gave chase to the Dutchmen, and fired with shot upon them, and also on the shore near Ellsineur, whither the flying crew had retreated. The English sailors were therefore stopped and put under arrest, by the Chaffers of Ellsineur. An English officer, who had attempted to defend himself with his sword, has also been taken into custody.

The ship Elizabeth, from the Isle of France to Hamburg, under neutral colors, is arrived in the river, having been detained by his Majesty's cutter the Lord Duncan, Lieutenant Wells, commander, and it is supposed will prove a very valuable prize.

Two French privateers have taken, within eight leagues of Spurn, the Guildford, Jarker, and Rover, Wilton with valuable cargoes for Hull, from which port the Prince de Cobourg cutter sailed in search of the privateers, one of which was seen off Dillington on the 3d. The Baltic trade, consisting of 80 vessels, have sailed with a fair wind, under convoy of the Vestal, of 28 guns, and a cutter.

LINDAU, May 21.

Head Quarters, at Singen, May 21, 7 o'clock, P. M.

Two hours ago we entered this place, and the army has encamped before it. Field Marshal Lieutenant Nauendorff has passed the Rhine, the whole southern bank of which has now been evacuated by the enemy in this quarter. The French have left Constance, and are also retreating from their position near St. Gallen towards Zurich. To cover their retreat, they attacked Colonel Gavassini who occupies the post of Werdenburg in the Grison country, with the greatest fury; but they were repulsed with considerable loss. The regiment of Kerpen Infantry had five officers killed and wounded. To-morrow the army will remain in its present position. The day after to-morrow the Rhine will be crossed near Stein and Schaffhausen. Col. Frenet has cut off a detachment of sixty French troopers with their horses. An equal number of republicans have been taken close to Balle.

Head Quarters at Stokach, May 17.

On the 19th, his Royal Highness ordered all the pontoons to be brought to the Rhine near Stein and Schaffhausen, and gave orders to Field Marshal Lieutenant Nauendorff to advance to that river. Massena perceiving this, drew the best part of his troops to that quarter, to command them in person, by which the corps stationed against General Hotze was weakened, and this General conquered the Valley of the Rhine, Toggenburg, and could advance to the very neighbourhood of Zurich.

BOTZEN, May 21.

General Nobili, who passed Mount Flocia with Colonel Count St. Julien, fell in between Tetschuggen and Dorff with the enemy, encamped behind a strong abatis. The courage of the troops conquered all obstacles. The hostile column was happily routed. We had 15 men either killed or wounded. Major Count Strahremberg, who came through Brettgau, joined with the principal column of general Nobili.—Of the French a great number remained dead on the field, and 138, including two captains, were taken prisoners. Our troops have occupied Klosters, Haupt, thirch, and Davos. There is no certain account of what success the other columns had. Every body says that the enemy were precipitately flying. These accounts came down to the 14th May, 6 o'clock P. M. On the 15th the head quarters were removed to Ponte.

FRANCKFORT, May 25.

It is said that another power will shortly make the same declaration at Ratibon as has been delivered by Sweden. At Mentz several battalions are arrived from Belgium. Near Worms a French camp is pitched. According to some the French General Bernadotte will again be put in commission.

The Landgrave of Hesse Cassel is drawing a cordon of between 6 and 8000 men on his frontiers.

Count Cobenzel, the Imperial minister at Petersburg will be re-placed by Count Dietrichstein.

SUABIA, May 23.

The Austrians have now effected a junction in the center of the Grison country from Italy, Tyrol and Vorarlberg. General Hotze passed the Rhine with part of his troops near Ragatz, and penetrated into the mountains of Glarus.—The military commission at Villigen sends its reports upon the catastrophe of Raftadt to the Archduke Charles, who gave orders on the 14th to restore all the papers and property of Jean Deby which have been found.

The ci-devant Baillet of Berne, Frayon Steiger, has published by a Declaration of the Swiss united for the restoration of their country on re-entering Switzerland." It takes up one sheet and a half of letter press.

HANAU, May 26.

We have nothing important from the Lower Rhine. Some public prints however, say, that an enterprise against Holland is much talked of. The advanced guard of the army of observation and neutrality, who e head quarters are come to Munster, will now advance, they say, to the right bank of the Lower Rhine. A Prussian camp is to be established near Minden, consisting of twenty one battalions of infantry, three battalions of artillery, and twenty six squadrons of horse, which may altogether amount to 22,000 men, whose destination will probably be to protect Hamburg. But all these rumours and assertions are much in need of confirmation.

VERONA, May 15.

Private advices say, that fort Urbano, in the district of Bologna surrendered on the 10th inst. to the Imperial troops, after a cannonade of some hours; we are also assured that our troops entered Bologna on the 13th, where there was a French garrison of 1200 men, who were made prisoners.

RATISBON, May 20.

The landing of the combined fleet, near Genoa, has now been officially announced. That city surrendered without resistance.—The city of Turin, with the citadel, has also been occupied by our troops. According to some official reports, General Angereau wished to hasten to relieve Genoa with 8000 men, but was surrounded, and both himself and his corps taken prisoners.

DECLARATION.

Made to the Diet of the Empire in the name of the king of Sweden as Duke of Pomerania.

His Majesty having already declared, that he considered the Congress of Peace at Rastadt no longer Constitutional, after the renewal of the war, and in consequence thereof he recalled his Minister, this Congress ought to be considered as dissolved. No Legation of the states of the Empire can remain at Rastadt, without evident breach of that respect which each state owes to the Supreme Chief of the Germanic Body. The present war, in his opinion, ought to be regarded as a war of the Empire; indeed it was declared as such at first, and as the Congress was convened, for the sole purpose of negotiating the peace during the armistice, he conceives that things should remain on the same footing.

It is the duty then of each member of the Empire to take an active interest in this war, by furnishing his contingent; no state, in his Majesty's opinion, can be dispensed from this obligation, except those whose local position, and want of means, render it impossible. A contrary opinion seems to him inadmissible and unconstitutional. Our principal obligation is obedience to the Chief Supreme of the Empire, and attachment to the Constitution, to ensure the enjoyment of our rights and prerogatives.—It may, perhaps, be alleged, that the interests and well being of some of the states of the Empire preclude to them what is termed a neutrality, but as his Majesty has already excepted those Sovereigns and countries, which from imperious circumstances, are prevented from supporting the burdens of the war, he does not see any reason for such conduct in those whose situation excludes the like excuse; and even should the part they would take in the war be attended with difficulties and expense, they have no solid motives which justify a breach of their engagements.—After some other observations his Swedish Majesty thus concludes: He that reads in the hearts of men is his judge, and we will assuredly see that no motive of ambition has induced him to take this step, and that his only incitement is the desire of re-establishing union, confidence, and integrity in the Germanic Body. He declares then here to his Co-states, that he is ready at this moment to make his contingent march, as Duke of Pomerania; and wishes that all the well disposed Members of the Empire particularly those who have the power to maintain it effectually, may imitate his example.

Mr. Cockburn, Consul of his Britannic Majesty in this city, has presented his credentials to our Senate, who have acknowledged him in that capacity.

HAGUE, May 21.

Yesterday the Batavian Directory, issued the proclamation concerning the organization of the National Guards. The Chiefs of half Brigades receive annually 1800 florins, the Captains 150, &c. The National Guards are to be immediately enrolled. For the present year they will form a corps of between 25 and 30,000 men. Cornelis de Gyzelaar, who was so famous before the revolution of 1787, and has never since lived at Brussels, is returned to Leyden.

EAST INDIES.

By the late overland dispatch, we (and we believe exclusively) received the Bombay and Calcutta Newspapers to the departure of the express, having established a medium, by which we shall receive these papers in succession by every possible conveyance. On the present occasion they are particularly barren of intelligence the following being the only articles we deem deserving notice;

From the Calcutta Post, December 7 '98.

By letters of very late date from Chittagong, we learn that some time past, a number of Burmahs have emigrated to the Southernmost part of the district, and that recently a body consisting, it is supposed, of 15,000, arrived. Upon being questioned why they abandoned their native country? they observed, they found it impossible longer to exist there.—You may deny us protection, say they—but we cannot return,—death itself is preferable to such a measure.

We have from time to time submitted to our readers, such accounts as could be depended upon, relating to the measures adopted by the Burmay Government, and not long since we had occasion to state, that the most vigorous exertions were making to meet the Siamese, with a formidable force. To these exertions and their consequences, which must have been distressing in the extreme to the people at large, it is owing that such vast numbers have abandoned their homes, in search of protection in a foreign land. The wretched policy, or the pressing necessities of the Government, have urged them to resort to the cruellest means to raise money; persons supposed to possess the value of 200 rupees have been tortured till they confessed where their treasure lay concealed; and to wrest from the less opulent, their little all the last has been applied to an uncommon degree of severity; such having been the case, we may rather expect more emigrants, than that those already arrived will be prevailed upon to return.

The Officers of the Calcutta Militia will dine, we understand, with the Right Honorable Governor General, on Wednesday next. The gentlemen will, of course, be dressed in the full uniform.

"To such an unexampled state of prosperity has the linen manufacture risen in Ireland, that cloths that used to sell at nineteen pence per yard, sold this day in our market for three shillings and one penny."

"How happy, comfortable, and contented, should such prices render our manufacturers and weavers? What country in Europe can afford greater incentives to industry and peaceable demeanor in its inhabitants of all ranks? Whoever wishes to interrupt or destroy such comforts, deserves the execration of Ireland as an enemy to mankind."

BALTIMORE, August 5.

Extra of a letter from Martinique dated July 13, to a gentleman in Baltimore.

"A vessel in 27 days from Gibraltar, arrived at Trinidad, reports that the British fleet was thought to have found an asylum in Toulon; and that, Earl St. Vincent having retired from before Cadiz, the Spanish fleet had ventured out with an intention of forming a junction with the French—Earl St. Vincent in the middle of the Gut, however, intercepted and brought them to a partial engagement, which obliged the Maferado to take shelter in the bay of Oran on the Barbary coast. The English admiral when the accounts came away, was making preparations for an immediate attack, and although the Spaniards were strongly situated, was sanguine in his expectations of not letting one escape."

MR. RUSSELL,

SIR,
As an evidence of the polite attention paid by the commanders of our cruising ships in the West Indies, to the wishes of the captains of Merchant vessels we send you for publication, the enclosed letter from Capt. FERRI, of the United States ship General Greene, to Captain Eames and others, who applied to him for a conveyance from Havana to Matanzas.

General Greene, 6th July.

GENTLEMEN,

I was duly honored with your polite request, of the present inst. and be assured every possible protection in my power, shall be rendered you, not only to the Matanzas, but from thence part of the way to America. I have the honor to be Gentlemen, with great respect and esteem, your obedient servant,

CHRISTOPHER RAYMOND PERRY.

To Capt. EAMES, and others,
American Masters at the Havana.

PROVIDENCE, July 31.

A letter received in town on Monday last from Mr. Laing, first Lieutenant of the United States frigate General Greene, dated at Newport harbor, mentions, that the General Greene failed from the Havana the 12th inst. with 50 sail of merchantmen, which the conveyed to the northward of Bermuda, when it proving very sickly on board, it was found necessary to bear away for Newport, in order to land the sick, and cleanse the ship: that 20 have died of the fever (among whom are 9 officers) and about 30 sick, who are landing at Coaster's harbor. Among the deceased officers are the purser, the surgeon, and Mr. Coleman, of this town, midshipman.

NEWPORT, JULY 30.

The United States frigate Gen. Greene, capt. Christopher Perry, arrived here on Saturday last, the 27th inst. from the Havana station; having conveyed upwards of fifty vessels bound to different ports of the United States. A very fatal and contagious disorder, together with other pressing causes, compelled her thus early to abandon her station. The causes which produced the fatal malady will no doubt be developed in due season—at the same time we feel ourselves warranted in expressing a belief, that it has not been produced by any negligence of the officers, or uncleanness of the crew; and that no possible exertions were wanting in searching into the cause of it, and endeavoring to prevent the effects. The exertions of capt. Perry, since his arrival in port, to prevent the contagion from reaching the town, will no doubt be applauded by every description of citizens. The candor with which the nature and extent of the calamity were immediately disclosed by the officers deserves to be particularly noticed.

While we deplore these distressing circumstances, in common with our fellow-citizens, and in particular with the relative of the deceased, we have the satisfaction to congratulate the friends of the remaining sick, on the flattering prospect of their speedy recovery.

The frigate is now anchored near Coaster's Harbor; the sick have been sent to the hospital on that island, and the well go on shore at Rose Island for their health. No person is admitted to go on board, or come from the ship, so that there is no danger from any contagion—there have died since the 15th July on board the ship 20; and 35 have been sent to the hospital at Coaster's Harbor—all but three walked to the hospital, and from the change of air and diet are rapidly recruiting.

We state these facts for the public's satisfaction, which may be relied on. We also subjoin a certificate from the physicians who have visited them.

"We the subscribers having examined the sick who were landed on Coaster's Harbor, on board the United States frigate General Greene; certify, that we have discovered no clearly marked case of yellow fever among them; but that the principal disease appears no more than a remittant bilious fever, such as is frequently generated, in warm seasons, on board of large ships, or other crowded situations."

A letter is received in town of the 17th of June, from Lisbon, brought by the schr. Lisbon, capt. Cox, which states "that the French fleet were still in Toulon, blockaded by Lord St. Vincent with 22 sail of the line—that the Spanish fleet had put into Carthage, in a most deplorable situation, said to have been from their express determination not to join the French fleet. No mention was made of 3 sail of the line reported to have been sent into Gibraltar by the English. Accounts had also been received at Lisbon of the restoration of the king of Naples to his kingdom, and of the total destruction of the French armies in Italy."

MR. FENNO,

Mr. Dallas and Tench Coxe will persist in their falsehoods.—They have published in the Aurora a list of nine generals and ten colonels, who, they say, served with distinction in our revolution. The greater part of them have been, long since the war, manufactured in Thomas Mifflin's shop, not for the troops they led to battle, but for the number of votes they could bring to an election. They are now fledged officers;

"That never felt a squadron in the field, Nor the division of a battle know More than a spiritless One of the Generals they mention remained with the army but a short time, and was only distinguished for having placed himself at the head of a faction to remove General Washington from the command. There were but four general officers belonging to the Pennsylvania line at the close of the war; three of whom are now alive, Generals St. Clair, Hand and Irvine, all decided friends to the election of Mr. Ross. The political sentiments of the other officers of the revolutionary army will be found such as to justify the observations in your paper of Thursday last, that not more than ten favor the election of Mr. McKean."

Resolved, That on the first day of October next, this board will proceed to elect a Professor of English and Grammar, who shall receive, for his services, at the rate of £200 per annum; to be paid quarterly; and that public notice thereof be given, &c. &c.

Tell,
N. B. The office aforesaid hath just become vacant, by the resignation of a gentleman, whose affairs require, the immediate undertaking of a voyage by sea.

It is the duty of the said Professor (to whom is allowed an assistant) to teach the English language grammatically, and to prepare students for a superior school, by teaching them the Latin grammar, the Vocabulary, and Cordery. Writing is to be taught to all his scholars at stated hours; and to those students who are not defined for the inferior school, are to be taught, at the discretion of their parents, or guardians, Arithmetic, and other branches of science usually taught in English schools.

A complete knowledge then of Latin, Arithmetic, &c. is considered indispensable in the professor; and it is expected, that candidates who are not known to the Board, will submit to an examination, as well as produce satisfactory testimonials of their good morals, and fair characters.

The Printers within the United States are re-

To which is prefixed,
APOTHECAL EPISTLE TO THE AUTHOR
By an American Gentleman.

[In introducing this celebrated work to the Gentlemen and Ladies of America, I have endeavored to give it a dress proportioned to its distinguished merit, and to the taste of those for whose amusement and delight it is intended. No expense has been spared in the publication; and I flatter myself that the work does not yield, either in paper or print, to any ever published in America.—
This edition has an advantage over some former ones, as it contains by way of notes, the minor productions of the author; and it has an advantage over every other edition, in the Poetical Epistle, which is prefixed to it, and which must be extremely gratifying to every lover of literature in this country, as it is a proof that there are Americans who have the taste to admire, the justice to applaud, and the talents to rival the Genius of other nations.]

Some Copies have been sent on to Mr. Bond, erelle, Maiden Lane, New York, also to Mr. Hill, Baltimore, and to Mr. Young, Charleston.
Copies will be sent to Boston and other places, as soon as occasions offer.]

WHEREAS,
AN attachment was lately issued out of the inferior court of common pleas of the county of Essex, in the State of New Jersey, directed to the Sheriff of the said county, against the rights, credits, monies and effects, goods and chattels, lands and tenements of John Cleves Symmes at the suit of William Wells, in a plea of trespass on the case to his damage three thousand dollars;—

And whereas, the said Sheriff did, at the term of June last past, return to the said court that he had attached the defendant by a certain bond given by Matthias Denman and Samuel Meeker to the said defendant, to the amount of near two thousand dollars, and also by sixty land warrants;—

Now therefore, unless the said John Cleves Symmes shall appear, give special bail, and receive a declaration at the suit of the plaintiff, judgment will be entered against him, and his property herein attached, will be sold agreeably to the statute in such case made and provided.
